

GOING UP!
Skirts

▲ Sky+ Designer Collection
Sky have gotten five top British designers to spice up their satellite box. Our favourite's this'n by Walé Adeyemi. At £199 they cost the same, but numbers are limited.

▲ Ute Ploier hat
Brilliant winter garment. It's a woolly beanie with quality Sony cans carefully stitched in. £175 at Selfridges. (0870 837 7377)

▲ Lego Star Wars
Out in April, it's a genius computer gaming concept of Lego + Star Wars.

▲ Bouncebackability
Brand new football term, invented on the hoof by Ian Dowie and championed by Soccer AM. You'll all be using it down the boozier.

▲ G.room
Inspired grooming/fashion/technology/porn man-shop tailored towards the more discerning gent, found on Carnaby Street or the interweb on www.theg-room.com

▲ Dress2Kill
For the cash-rich and time-poor, bespoke suit makers Dress2Kill will make a personal visit to your home or office for measuring and fitting their quality suits, from £350. (www.dress2kill.com)

▲ Sheep windypops
Boffins in Perth have developed a vaccine against the microbes that produce methane in sheep stomachs, to stop them farting. It's serious. Gas from farm animals account for 20 per cent of global methane emissions.